HER BODY TAKEN HOME

Terrible Grief of the Mother of Alice Leonide Cozzens.

The Beautiful Suicide's Motive Still Shrouded in Mystery.

She Wanted to Be a Second Mary Anderson.

The body of Alice Leonide Cozzens, the beautiful young girl who committed suicide in a room in; the Coleman House Sunday by taking poison and then shooting herself through the heart, was removed at 9 A. o'clock this morning from Undertaker Kipp's rooms, at 136 First avenue, to her parents' house, 240 W. One Hundred and Thirty-sixth coroner Messemer had granted a permit of removal to Undertaker Hulberg, and he gathered together the suicide's elegant dress. sealskin acque and hat and the other articles of clothing that were found on the body.

The body reached the Committed in the control of the control o shortly after 10 o'clock, and the appearance of the coffin wagen attracted quite a crowd of curiosity seekers on the sidewalk in front. Mrs. Cozzens, the grief-stricken mother, was still in bed when the body of her unfortunate daughter was carried into the house. Turough a servant she learned that it had arrived and the news throw her into hysterics, from which she du not revive for several minutes.

The body was placed in the back parior and Undertaker Heiberg proceeded to embain it.

Mr. Cozzens was in the house but was in shortly after 10 o'clock, and the appearance M. J.

The body was placed in the back parlor and birt. Corzens was in the house, but was insible, and although it could not be learned hen the body will be buried, it is probable that it will be to-morrow.

that it will be to-morrow.

The mystery which envelops the motive that prompted Miss Cozzens to take her life has not yet been cleared up.

Some light, nowever, is thrown to-day on on the statement of the young woman to her mother saturday afternoon on leaving her home that she would call on a family acquaintance named Mendham at 34 West Filty-ninth street.

Cozzens Mr. Mendham could not say or how the acquaintance was formed.

Neither could be tell whether his brother ever went out with Miss Cozzens, but he was positive of one thing, and that was she frequently said she wanted to go on the stage.

"Her great ambition was the drama," Mr. southam added, "and she longed to be a second Mary Anderson."

Mr. Mendham said in conclusion that he had not seen Miss 'ozzens in some time and he was at a lose to account for her suicide.

LINDEN'S RED-HOT ELECTION.

The Race-Track Contest May Cause Some Broken Heads.

LINDEN, N. J., March 14.-A red-hot election is in progress here to day, and there may be broken heads before the polls close. The issue is whether the Littden race-track shall be licensed, and there is a bitter struggle going on bethere is a bitter struggle going on between the Law and Order people and the race-track men. The latter chain they will carry the election.

The Law and Order people sent representatives to Mayor Rankin at Elizabeth this morning, asking him to detail a detachment of police for duty at the polls in Linden. The Mayor said he had no authority to send the Elizabeth police to Linden, and referred the committee to Sheriff Hicks.

There are less than 500 voters in Linden, but both sides regard the election as of the utmost importance. Every voter in the place is being urged to go to the polls.
